Nestled within the stunning landscape of Casarabonela in Andalucia, Spain, this finca offers an exquisite blend of rustic charm and contemporary luxury. Featuring three double bedrooms and one single bedroom on the first floor, each with the three double bedrooms own en-suite bathroom equipped with walk-in showers. The ground floor of the main finca is a harmonious blend of traditional elements and modern amenities. A spacious hallway welcomes you to the dining room with an adjacent kitchen, where culinary adventures await. The cozy dining room offers a warm and inviting atmosphere, while a separate TV room provides a perfect retreat for relaxation. Additionally, a room thoughtfully used as an office space ensures that you can work in comfort, surrounded by the inspiring Andalucian landscape. Throughout the finca, rustic wooden beams harken back to its heritage, seamlessly integrated into a high-standard modern renovation. Beyond the main residence, a separate building houses a garage and two independent, generously sized bedrooms, each with its own en-suite bathroom. These rooms open onto a terrace that promises some of the most awe-inspiring views in all of Andalucia. Whether you're sipping morning coffee or stargazing at night, this terrace is a private haven where you can immerse yourself in the natural beauty of the region. Additionally, there is a newly built gazebo platform where the current owners hold retreats with yoga classes, all while enjoying the amazing views. This finca in Casarabonela represents a harmonious marriage of old-world charm and contemporary living. With its spacious accommodations, stunning vistas, and modern amenities, it offers a unique opportunity to experience the best of Andalucia in style and comfort. Whether you seek a peaceful retreat, a place to entertain guests, or an investment in the beauty of southern Spain, this property stands as an embodiment of timeless allure and modern sophistication. Additionally, the flat plot on the property is suitable for a B&B, yurts, or glamping, expanding the possibilities for this remarkable estate.
